

Government Relations

Conrad O'Brien's government relations team has decades of experience in both the public and private arena, with a particular emphasis on Pennsylvania. We represent elected officials and interface with governmental entities and other decision makers, assist clients in navigating government requirements and expectations, and forge public-private partnerships.

Conrad O'Brien works effectively with all branches and levels of government, including local, state, and federal. Our government relations team has a deep knowledge of how government functions and a reputation for integrity, skill, and attention to detail. In addition to providing needed counsel to governmental officials on a wide range of legal matters, our team also serves entrepreneurs, established businesses, and nonprofit corporations, helping our clients obtain information in the rapidly moving world of legal, regulatory, and policy change.

Our clients are continually advised as to the impact of pending and passed legislation and are counseled as to the rules and practical concerns which affect government decision-making in order to develop strategies for success. Conrad O'Brien focuses on cultivating trust and working cooperatively with government officials, but do not hesitate to challenge adverse rules or decisions when a challenge is in our client's best interest. We also work seamlessly in the broader public policy arena to give clients a voice for legislative and policy change. Finally, our government relations team has vast contacts in the lobbying, communications, and advocacy communities, in keeping with our reputation of bringing a well-balanced team to tackle client problems.